In January 2016, UCF discovered a recent intrusion into UCF’s computer network which compromised the personal identifiable information of some members of the University of Central Florida Community. University officials reported the incident to the UCF Police Department and launched an investigation. This unauthorized access was to Social Security numbers but not credit card information, financial records, medical records, or grades for approximately 63,000 current and former UCF students, staff and faculty members.

Law enforcement officials are currently investigating the source of the intrusion.
